

it's words you forget to anniversary songs the bottles bite back your tolerance wrong your good intentions count for little anymore if you're sorry why wage war? i'm not fully convinced that there's something wrong with this could anotehr point of view, baised and untrue, tear me away fr om you?
will you be my valentine if i'm a world away? apologies are breaking me the constants aren't so constant anymore for two days i wait for calls to come through tonight for me translates to yesterday to you you bend and you wave when you're barely away i wish i could say tonight that when you bend and wave goodbye you'd take me with you
