

February

The Getaway Plan

You are the stars,
Looking down on the world from afar.
You will shine through the night.
An eternal beacon of light
Yeah and you are the sun,
Beaming life into everyone.
You will light up the sky
Till the day that the universe dies.

Don't fall asleep, the night has only started.
There's time to keep and we are only young.
If we kiss, we'll ignite.
We could set this whole damn world alight.
And everything we know would burn away

You are the trees,
Making oxygen so I can breathe
Over time you will rise,
With your branches sturdy and wide.
And you are the earth
And I'll tell you for what it is worth
That your core is alive,
It's my only chance to survive

Don't fall asleep, the night has only started.
There's time to keep and we are only young.
If we kiss, we'll ignite.
We could set this whole damn world alight.
And everything we know would burn away

And if you love me then please let me know
Cause I believe that my heart is your home.
But then when February comes, I hope that you know,
I hope that you know that I'll hold you close.

Don't fall asleep, the night has only started.
There's time to keep and we are only young.

Don't fall asleep, the night has only started.
There's time to keep and we are only young.
If we kiss, we'll ignite.
We could set this whole damn world alight.
And everything we know would burn away
