

Pages past and pointed to,
lost along the way, never knowing infinity.
And only one thing is certain, tragedy.

The swell and storm, tides rise and wash away remembrance.
Syphon through the sand, force felt through time. Radiate.

Shine on, Shine on, from the inside out.
Shine on, Shine on, don't ever dim.

Settle down and waste away. Deafened. Muted. And Blind.
Lived your life, done and died. Erased. Vanished. Goodbye.

Lines frozen in time, suspended in one place.
Bound, and held together. Forever. Another legend lives on...

The chance came and went, to start a spark.
My will can never be broken. I'll still shine on.

Lines frozen in time, suspended in one place.
Bound, and held together. Forever. Another legend lives on...

This song I leave for you, from me
