

It Doesn't Matter

The Gits

You're laying there
A statue full of vengeance
Gaping at the mouth
One day where you had been
Down on your knees begging for
A little bit of answers

Well how many times
With your questions?
I fall down in my prayer
Beautiful vengeance
Never ever thought to think maybe
It's all I have well all day long well
Screaming like a little child, go down
In our dungeon and find just a little bit of anger

Here comes the night
Really really feel it burning
It never ever really occurred to me
It never ever really occurred to me
Down there on my grave
Beautiful vengeance
Never ever thought to think maybe it's all I have

There I go I don't feel no more
Of their emotion, it doesn't matter
It feels good when the time is right
But I don't care it doesn't feel good
I drink too much but I rarely fuck
I don't care doesn't matter
Well you never seem to give a shit for me
Why should I be chasing after
As I'm leaving there you walk by
Just standing still and I turn the other way

As you walk on by and I don't care it doesn't matter
Well it just feels a little too tough
I don't care it doesn't feel good
I drink too much and I always will
I don't care doesn't matter
Well you never seem to give a shit for me
Why should I be chasing after
As I'm leaving there you walk by
Just standing still and I turn the other way

As I'm leaving there you walk by
Just standing still and I turn the other way
As you walk on by and I don't care it doesn't matter
Well it just feels a bit too strong
I don't care it doesn't feel good
I drink to love and I always will
I don't care doesn't matter
Well you never seem to give a shit for me
I'm tired of always chasing after
As I'm leaving there you walk by
Just standing still and I turn the other fucking way
