

A Man With No God

The Growlers

A man with no god started to pray
For a chance and a shot to win back his name
Used to have a whole lot and he threw it away
And all that he loved was washed down the drain

Old man, oh no
He had no place else to go
Old man, oh lord
Only the lord could save his soul

He was the one it wouldn't happen to
He reminded me of me and you
He had it all but what is it all
I guess you only know when its finally gone

Old man, oh no
He got no place else to go
Old man, oh lord
Only the lord could save his soul

Down to his knees and willing to give faith a try
Willing to plead to the man who gave and spared his life

A man with no god started to pray
For a chance and a shot to win back his name
When he had nothing he started to see
The thing he missed most was his dignity

Old man, oh no
He got no place else to go
Old man, oh lord
Only the lord could save his soul

Down to his knees and willing to give faith a try
Willing to plead to the man who gave and spared his life