

Acid Rain

The Growlers

Last night I dreamed that it rained
And nobody complained
And when it quit no one was ever the same

This rain was strange
And all the colors changed
And the blues of my baby
Leaving turned into green

Drip drop dripped onto my lips
I dreamed and acid rain trip
Drip drop dripped acid rain trip
All of my loneliness slipped

Since you went away
Everything has been gay
Only gray and plain
Until the acid rain

Drip drop dripped onto my lips
I dreamed and acid rain trip

Last night I dreamed that it rained
And nobody complained
And when it quit no one was ever the same

This rain was strange
And all the colors changed
And the blues of my baby
Leaving turned into green

Drip drop dripped onto my lips
I dreamed and acid rain trip
Drip drop dripped acid rain trip
All of my loneliness slipped
