

Dogheart II

The Growlers

The sun doesn't beat her
He lets the shadows hug her breast
He just rests on her skin to make her warm to caress
A Little sun babe
Stealing your eyes from the sky
Steal her and bring her into the night

Cool down there baby
Like ice cream to the night
Shine a little love on your life
Her skin turns into leather
Hearts begin to callouse
Nothing in this world lasts forever

Little girls don't last forever
Enjoy them while you can
They're made for little boys
And soon you'll be a man
Little girls don't last forever
Enjoy them while you can
They're made for little boys
And soon you'll be a man

When you see diamonds in her eyes
And lips of morning mist
Use the moon to steal the sun's kiss
For that feeling is begging
Listen to your dogheart
Let it out of the yard

'Cause little girls don't last forever
Enjoy them while you can
They're made for little boys
And soon you'll be a man
Little girls don't last forever
Enjoy them while you can
Take it from a dirty young man

The sun doesn't beat her
He lets the shadows hug her breast
He just rests on her skin to make her warm to caress
That Little sun babe
Stealing your eyes from the sky
Steal her and bring her into the night
