

One Million Lovers

The Growlers

Found a cure for loneliness I'm forever immune
Stuck in my walk and in my head and I hum her tune
Yep she got rhythm, it's right
Some things don't need words
You know you're living
When it all becomes a blur

Can't be explained
And there ain't no reason to
Something strange
Just takes over you

One Million Lovers
To choose from but none like her
The only one for sure
One Million Lovers
To choose from but none like her
The only one for sure

Can't explain, but it's almost hard to recognize myself
Slowly I've changed, turned into someone else
I find myself doin' things I'd never do
Dreamin' of her the whole day through
Can't explain, there is no need
There's no one else who's been inside of me

Can't be explained
And there ain't no reason to
Something strange
Just takes over you

One Million Lovers
To choose from but none like her
The only one for sure
One Million Lovers

The only one for sure
One Million Lovers
To choose from but none like her
The only

I know nothing stays the same
Things always change
But you and I will remain

I know nothing stays the same
Things always change
But you and I will remain

I know always the same
Things change
But you and I will remain
