

Since You Been Gone

The Heavy

Well, I can see what it is
I can see what's on my mind, oh no Because my heart don't beat like it should
And I can't stop crying, oh no

Memories of our own
All this love in my soul
All these things that you love
My heart can't take it no more

Since you been gone
Since you been gone
Since you been gone
Since you been gone, you been gone, you been gone, you been gone, you been

So tell me, what do you love, love
If I haven't got you? Oh no
I'm looking for the pot at the end of the rainbow
But all I found is blues, oh yeah

All these things in my head
Broken from the things that you said
Yeah, I can't have you back in my bed
I'm thinking that I'm better off dead

Since you been gone
Since you been gone
Since you been gone
Since you been gone, you been gone,
you been gone, you been gone, you been gone
You been gone, you been gone (you've been gone so long), you been gone, you been gone, you been gone (you been) Since you been gone (you've been gone so long),
you been gone, you been gone, you been gone, you been

The raindrops won't stop falling
The raindrops won't stop falling
The raindrops won't stop falling
Oh, no
The raindrops won't stop falling
The raindrops won't stop falling
The raindrops won't stop falling
From my eyes

Since you been gone
Since you been gone
Since you been gone
Since you been gone, you been gone,
you been gone, you been gone, you been gone
You been gone, you been gone (you've been gone so long),
you been gone, you been gone, you been gone (you been)
You been gone, you been gone, you been gone, you been gone, you been (I said so long, you been)
You been gone, you been gone (you've been gone so long),
you been gone, you been gone, you been gone
