

I don't dare
I'll see you later
Everything you think is comfortable, well it is
As I stand at the top of this fountain
Waiting to be blasted into the air
Everyone gets in the way of everything (don't stand around)
Everyone gets in the way of everything (don't stand around)
Everyone gets in the way of everything (don't stand around)
Everyone gets in the way

And I don't mind having that someone around
If you listen and write then the lesson in life's not playing the role of the let down
And I know I'm casually learning to get down
And we're crazy concerned, attention deserved, not playing the role to get let down

No air
I'm breathing better
Everything you feel is terrible, cause it is
Oh I can't forget the night that it happened
Always keeping secrets that we will never tell
Everyone gets in the way of everything (don't stand around)
Everyone gets in the way of everything (don't stand around)
Everyone gets in the way of everything (don't stand around)
Everyone gets in the way

And I don't mind having that someone around
If you listen and write then the lesson in life's not playing the role of the let down
And I know I'm casually learning to get down
And we're crazy concerned, attention deserved, not playing the role to get let down

(And I don't mind) And I don't mind (And I don't mind) having that someone around
If you listen and write then the lesson in life's not playing the role of the let down
(And I know I'm) And I know I'm (And I know I'm) casually learning to get down
And we're crazy concerned, attention deserved, not playing the role to get let down