Even If

The Honorary Title

Doesn't seem that selfish, no, not in the least What's so self righteous about this curiosity? This want for a meager exchange So much time has passed but still it remains This need for you is a recurring theme in my life

Don't you think I'm lonely? Eager to complete the story Confused and still haunted With why you'd start over Oh and ignore me

It takes time to realize the other side of you That's controlled and blinding on sight of our lives Well even if you left me and my brother Even if you left us and our mother

I want nothing more than to catch your eye Would you be impressed with how far I've climbed Without your assistance with you nowhere in sight?

Don't you think I'm lonely? Eager to complete the story Confused and still haunted With why you'd start over Oh and ignore us

It takes time to realize the other side of you That's controlled and blinding on sight of our lives Even if you left me and my brother Even if you left us and our mother

She's had her share more than we'll know My brother won't, he just won't let go

They say you're sick and there's a name and a phrase To apply and help explain
Still having trouble trying to separate
How you started a new family?

Even after you left me and my brother Even after you left us and our mother
