

Weighed Down

The Horrors

A siren's melody, how could I know
A silent lullaby to your soul
Caught in a slow decline, and you're gonna fall
When you don't know the way at all
And now they see into your head

And they see into your mind in here
And no, that isn't all how it ends
But will you ever be the same
Before you needed every touch
Before you needed everyone to say
You're living through a lover's eyes
And she's paying all the time
Living in another lifeless place
And now you're way down

Weighed down, weighed down
Weighed down, weighed down
Didn't need another life to lead
When you're weighed down, down
Way, way down

Siren on a winter's day
Driven mad, you played your part
Now here goes the melody, how bare it is

Because they see into your mind in here
And say that isn't all how it ends
Did it really have to be this way?
Did you need another touch?
In the shadow of a slow decay
Living through a lover's eyes
Is there any higher price?
Living in another lifeless place
And now you're way down

Weighed down, weighed down
Weighed down, weighed down
Didn't need another life to lead
When you're weighed down, down
Way, way down

The weight, the weight
The darkness on your shoulders
The weight, the weight
The darkness in your soul
The weight, the weight
The darkness on your shoulders
The weight, the weight
The darkness in your soul but

Don't let love bring you down
Don't let love bring you down with me
Don't let love bring you down
Don't let love bring you down, you down