Wild Eyed

The Horrors

Make me silver promises Take away my life I'd give it up if you would only listen

I know all your secrets I know all your lies The water's cool if you choose the right time

Float away again Float, float away again

I know all your lies Fragile as they are The water's cool if that's what you came for

Your eyes are running Through a bitter snow The sky is cold Colder than the ocean

Float away again
Float, float away again
