

A Baby Got Back On Its Feet

The House of Love

And I'm rushing when I want to sleep
I think too much about the things that keep me all strung out Lying in the night with my eyes wide open
And the images are screaming out and honey is running over and over
Stay away
Stay away

Little people beep, beep, beep
And I heard it in a song and I knew that it was wrong
Every face on every pavement knows there's something good in ev eryone
Have you ever watched a full moon glow in the night when you're feeling low?
Stay away, stay away
Stay away, stay away
Stay away, stay away, stay away
Stay away, stay away, stay away
Stay away

A baby got back on his feet
Climbing down the stairs, made it's way out of the door
And the wink from a man on the street penetrates the brain, mak es you feel the same
And you're never going to feel complete, not till you're loved by everyone
Stay away
Stay away