I Am the Law

The Human League

My life I'm a fool for you You who take no advice You who think evil doesn't exist Just because you deny it is true

You're lucky I care For fools like you You're lucky I'm there To stop people doing the things That you know they are dying to do

You know I am no stranger I know rules are a bore But just to keep you from danger I am the law

A dog must bark So evil calls Both in the wild and Within these walls

You know I am no stranger I know rules are a bore But just to keep you from danger I am the law
