The Sign

The Human League

Around the nation, around the world What's been going down?

A million voices, one question hurled Heard in every town

All of the people, one simple plea What will happen now?

Asked in concern for their destiny Got to know somehow

They say They say

Everything will be fine Everything will be fine Everything will be fine I saw the sign

So if you want to know what's going on Going round and round You'd better ask before your world is gone Gone without a sound

They say They say

Everything will be fine
Everything will be fine
Everything will be fine
I saw the sign
Everything will be fine
Everything will be fine
Everything will be fine
I saw the sign
