Where We Went Wrong

The Hush Sound

My heart has lost its wind now Broken like a dead sail My love has drifted out to sea

My body has been claimed Soul has been shipped away Can't feel the sand between my toes

We set the wrong course and headed due north
That's where we went wrong
We were young and learning steady hearts hate turning
That's where we went wrong

My will to fight has been flushed Seized like blank babies faces The water line begins to rise

Let the tide swallow me whole Like morning light in windows Let that dark water take me home

We set the wrong course and headed due north
That's where we went wrong
We were young and learning steady hearts hate turning
That's where we went wrong

Hey come back to me Hey come back to me Hey come back to me Baby come back to me (ba ba da ba ba)

We set the wrong course and headed due north
That's where we went wrong
We were young and learning steady hearts hate turning
That's where we went wrong
