

Diamonds And Daisies

The Icarus Account

If I could just see through your eyes for a moment
Would I find what I've been looking for so desperately
Those hazel eyes have got me spinning around in circles

We both know so let's let go
Of these feelings that we can hold back
We can't control nothing is fading
If I stay If I go nothing is changing
Nothing is changing...

It's you and me versus the world
I know that it's crazy
They can't stop you from being my girl
I don't trade diamonds for daisies

If you want this just as I do
Then be willing to take a risk take a fall
Would you be happy to let it burn let it die
And wonder what could be
And trust me you'll be sorry
It's you and me versus the world
I know that it's crazy
They can't stop you from being my girl
I don't trade diamonds for daisies

Nothing's gonna stop us now Except for ourselves

If you could just let go
Of all that you hold on to
And be happy with the consequence
So what's it gonna be baby

It's you and me versus the world
I know that it's crazy
They can't stop you from being my girl
I'll make sure of that
It's you and me versus the world
I know that it's crazy
They can't stop you from being my girl
I don't trade diamonds for daisies
