True Love Can Be Beautiful

The Jackson 5

True love can be beautiful Searching Been looking everywhere Soon ill find you, girl I know im getting closer now Cant wait to hold you, girl The day I find you, girl, youll love me Hey, girl When youre in my arms youll want to keep for me Im sure Cause my loves that strong youll be too weak to leave me The day I find you, girl, youll love me Each day I try harder With faith and confidence I know ill get you True love can be beautiful but it takes time True love can be beautiful but it takes time So close I can still feel your heartbeat but youre not here But my searching is all over now that youre growing near Today I finally found you, girl, and you love me Youre here in my arms Where youll stay today Always... Always... True love can be beautiful but it takes time True love can be beautiful but it takes time Today I found you, girl You love me True love can be beautiful but it takes time True love can be beautiful but it takes time
