

About You

The Jesus and Mary Chain

I can see that you and me
Live our lives in the pouring rain
And the raindrops beat out of time to our refrain

And you and me will win you'll see
People die in their living rooms
But they do not need this God Almighty gloom

There's something warm about the rain
There's something warm, there's something warm
There's something warm in everything

I know there's something good
There's something good about you, about you, about you
I know there's something warm
There's something warm, there's something warm
Good about you.
