Mad in love for levitation Heartbreak coming down And it's lucky for me I don't mind Waiting patient Growing the flower from the ground

There's just one thing that I've been dreaming of The way we did before Holding hands and like could say this was the end

Is this the end of life worth living
Is this the end of a heart worth giving
Is this the end
I wanna know, I wanna love
I want a new beginning

Back in the day when I was so helpless
You gave me your hand, I gave you dirt
And if you give me a chance, I want a life
I want to thank you for pulling me back from the brink
Oh, come on lover, don't say it's done
Go pray for something more
Michael Angelo would pray to paint the floor

Is this the end of life worth living
Is this the end of a heart worth giving
Is this the end
I wanna know, I wanna love
I want a new beginning

'Cause I spent my life just fending off something I said or done Encircles in a moment, been and gone It's just one thing that I am certain on, the highway I belong Open ended as a lizard to the sun

Is this the end of
Is this the end of
Is this the end of life worth living
Is this the end of a heart worth giving
Is this the end
I wanna know, I wanna love
Is this the end
I wanna know, I wanna love
Take my life for the living
For a new beginning
