C'mon Now

The John Butler Trio

Tell ya little bit of trouble I have cause all I really think about is you Back and forth and around again
cause all I really think about is you Pickup a phone and I call my friend and all we really talk about is you Now I wonder if it'll ever end
cause all I really think about is you

C'mon Now
Hey, c'mon now

I bend my words and I break my spine
cause all I really think about is you Takes all I got just to walk your line
Cause all I really think about is you Just like a junky lookin for my fix
Cause all I really think about is you Get me so high man I'm feelin sick

C'mon now
Hey, c'mon now

You're self-centered man I know your kind cause all you really think about is you You know it all but you're walking blind
cause all you really think about is you Your head is living where the sun don't shine
cause all you really think about is you Now tell ya baby it's just a matter of time Till it all falls down around you.

C'mon now
Hey, c'mon now
