Be Still

The Killers

Be still, go on to bed Nobody knows what lies ahead. And life is short, to say the least. We're in the belly of the beast.

Be still, wild and young. Long may your innocence reign, Like shells on the shore May your limits be unknown, may your efforts be your own

If you ever feel you can't take it anymore,

Don't break character, you've got a lot of heart Is this real or just a dream? Rise up like the sun, labor till the work is done.

Be still, one day you'll leave Fearlessness on your sleeve When you come back, tell me what did you see? (what did you see?) Was there something out there for me?

Be still, close your eyes. Soon enough you'll be on your own. Steady and straight And if they drag you through the mud, it doesn't change what's in you r Blood. Over rock, over chain, over trap, over plain.

When they knock you down

Don't break character. You've got a lot of heart. Is this real or just a dream?

Be still. Be still. Be still. Be still.

Over rock and chain, over sunset plain. Over trap and snare When you're in too deep In your wildest dreams, in your made up schemes

When they knock you down (when they knock you down)

Don't break character. You've got so much heart. Is this real or just a dream?

Rise up like the sun, and labor till the work is done. 3x
