

Goin' Away for to Leave You

The Kingston Trio

Well, I'm goin' away for to leave you. Might not come back any more (more, more)

If I never more see your face again, then it's honey on that far distant, distant shore. Honey on that far distant shore.

Well, now, I'm goin' down to New Orleans, just to ride on the river boat.

Gotta keep bailin' all night long just to keep the darn boat afloat.

Well, I'm goin' away for to leave you. Might not come back any more (more, more)

If I never more see your face again, then it's honey on that far distant, distant shore. Honey on that far distant shore.

Here is where I was born and raised, where the cold, cold North wind blows.

But I'm goin' back to old Tennessee where my good gal only knows.

Well, I'm goin' away for to leave you. Might not come back any more (more, more)

If I never more see your face again, then it's honey on that far distant, distant shore. Honey on that far distant shore.

Keep a light in your window. Keep it burnin' bright.

Someday I'm gonna come aknockin' at your door. Baby, I'll treat you right.

Well, I'm goin' away for to leave you. Might not come back any more (more, more)

If I never more see your face again, then it's honey on that far distant, distant shore. Honey on that far distant shore.
