Still Light

The doctor came in the morning She held my hand And asked "was it worth it?" "Could it be worse than this?" Please recall Give me a hint Anything will do If this was the last time now you should tell us what to do

I was afraid I guess Now I can't think no more I was so concentrated On keeping things together I've learned to focus on I didn't want to disappoint Now where is everybody Is it still light outside? The Knife
