

Jason

The Kry

Jason dreams of leaving home
Leaving everything behind
To be a missionary way across the ocean

Jason's dying to tell the world
What really matters the most
That Jesus came to save us
He came to give His Life

Some say He shouldn't leave at all

Goodbye goodbye home
Goodbye I really have to go
I heard the voice of Jesus calling me
So I will follow

Jason finally sees the day
When those who know him sadly wave
As he walks up to the airplane for God knows how long

Jason staring out the window
Dreams of telling all the people
About the One who gives him hope
So he starts to pray

Lord you're the reason that I want to go

Goodbye goodbye home
Goodbye I really have to go
I heard the voice of Jesus calling me
So I will follow

It really ain't no sacrifice
It's really just the least that I can do
To make You known is such an honor
And a dream come true

Jason dreams of leaving home...
