

Come down tapping on the glass as I lock the passenger door Somehow it got in the back now I can't relax anymore Last night got a hold of me,
I can't wrestle free from my head Sunlight banging on the wall begging me for more promises

And I slip and I slide
like a spider on an icicle
Frozen in time
It's a trick of the light,
I got a girl around the corner still trying to change my mind.
And never in my wildest dreams has it occurred to me to try to go to sleep.
Wonder whether I'll grow curious when old Dr. Dusk comes to call for me.
Midnight I'm like her specialty, she'll outmuscle me, certainly
in the end
Midnight has got the hots for me and I'm about to be born again

Love hearts heavy in her hands,
Oh no not again!
New regrets
Rough start but we all know that dance
Do those old boots remember the steps?

And I slip and I slide
like a spider on an icicle
Frozen in time
It's a trick of the light,
I got a girl around the corner still
trying to change my mind

sleep.
Wonder whether I'll grow curious
when old Dr. Dusk comes to call for me.
Midnight I'm like her specialty,
she'll outmuscle me, certainly
in the end.
Midnight has got the hots for me
and I'm about to be born again.
