

Away

The Latency

Conversation has its hold on me
But you'll know this back and forth
Is just getting old, is just getting old

You've been talking to me endlessly
But you will not say the things
That I want to know, that I want to know

Let me in, words are wearing numb (ah, ah, ah)
Could it be bad enough that I would turn and run?

Run away (you'll find nothing is sacred)
Away (I swear, I won't believe it)
So come on, you can stay with me and sit down,
And I will not run away

Maybe I would walk a thousand miles
Tell the world the secret things
That you're trying to hold, trying to hold

But you'll have to take a chance on me and
Just give up all the ghosts that you're dying to show
'Cause I'm dying to know

Let me in, words are wearing numb (ah, ah, ah)
Could it be bad enough that I would turn and run?

Run away (you'll find nothing is sacred)
Away (I swear, I won't believe it)
So come on, you can stay with me and sit down,
And I will not run away

So come on,
You can stay with me and sit down,
You can compare me with your thoughts
And your tears will wash your fears away

So come on, 'cause I need the truth
I can tell, this is killing you, let it out.
And your tears will wash your fears away

Away, away, (you'll find nothing is sacred)

Away (you'll find nothing is sacred)
Away (I swear, I won't believe it)
So come on, you can stay with me and sit down,
And I will not run away

So come on,
You can stay with me and sit down,
You can compare me with your thoughts
And your tears will wash your fears away

So come on, 'cause I need the truth
I can tell, this is killing you, let it out.
I can feel your fear just wash away

Away
