

Shadows Breaking Over My Head

The Left Banke

Shadows breaking over my head

I wanted to see her
I want her alone, I tell you
I wanted to see her though I knew she has left me now through trees I don't see

Shadows breaking over my head
Shadows breaking over my head

How well does she know me how well do I see her it's something I told her this way to really see me please don't leave me

Eyes that would be dancing through my time would help me find a way to seek her out in my mind no no not this time it's through for her and me

Shadows breaking over my head
Shadows breaking over my head
