

Like two souls touching. Thoughts a - breaking - Lovers sleeping.
Waves
breaking against our minds. We play, play and laugh, play and laugh and sing to the heavens. Eyes smiling to eyes, across the words of wisdom.
As you strayed, kicked heels in the spray. Til my heart broke out. I dive into the waves to join us once again in the deep green playground and they call home. And others watch... but to us they melt into the trees, lured by we... the sirens. They back away from the sea green, from the things they fear. From the death. From the sirens...