

No Drugs, No Alcohol

The Let Go

Satellite feeds my eyes tonight
But i don't want to sit around anymore
You were right
I guess you won the fight
And i don't know if i can take many more
Yo, Anthony
He knew it was me
We never meant to hurt him so determine
It's a certain irony

"Jane's a miracle no matter what they so to..."
"Davie, keep your major Tom away"
"From here to mars, is anybody there"
"I want to stare, but i know it's no joke"

You're out of hope but don't let go of the rope
I never meant to hurt him, so determined, it's a certain irony
Yeah
It's no joke, you're of ho[
Don't let go of the rope
Never meant to hurt him, so determine, it's a certain irony

Don't believe what you've heard
Don't call police cause they don't work for me
I made the bed i'm dying in
So spare me from that look you give
You know the one i mean
Promise me your words they might comfort me
But it's no guarantee
I fell upon the hands we shook
So sue me til you're off the hook
You know what i mean

Don't believe what you've heard
Don't call police cause they don't work for me
I made the bed i'm dying in
So spare me from that look you give
You know the one i mean
