

Piece by piece I am shedding my skin
Leaving trails of the damage within
Been around I have played the victim
I have walked my plank and I've fallen in I've fallen in

Lift me up and tear me down
If that's what it takes to rebuild
Throwing out these broken pieces
And salvage what's left of my soul
( 'Cause I knew no wrong)
Can you hear me now
From that water far beyond
On and on

Could it be the luck of the draw?
Or is it the fate if us all?
Take myself into my own hands
Or go into the light on your command

Lift me up and tear me down
If that's what it takes to rebuild
Throwing out these broken pieces
And salvage what's left of my soul
( 'Cause I knew no wrong)
Can you here me now
From that water far beyond

Could it be the luck of the draw?
Or is it the fate of us all?

Lift me up and tear me down
If that's what it takes to rebuild
Throwing out the broken pieces
And salvage what's left of my soul
( 'Cause I knew no wrong)
Can you hear me now
From that water far beyond

I need you to hear me
( 'Cause I knew no wrong)
Can you hear me now
From that water far beyond
