

Shattered

The Letter Black

No longer waiting for redemption in your eyes
No longer trading all the truth I kept inside
So take you broken arrows shoot 'em in the sky
Now you're the one who's weak still wondering why

You left me shattered
But I'm so over it
I put back the pieces just to see if they still fit
You left me shattered
But I'm stronger from this I'm doing just fine
And now you're only wasting your time

No longer shackled by your words that keep me down
No longer breathing in the fear you spread around
Sober you assaulted me soon you will find out
I can't be broken I hate to let you down

You left me shattered
But I'm so over it
I put back the pieces just to see if they still fit
You left me shattered
But I'm stronger from this I'm doing just fine
And now you're only wasting your time

You tried to make believe you're the best part of me
You words cutting me in two
But now I realize I gave you love you gave me lies
The worst part about me was you

Shattered
But I'm so over it
I'm doing just fine

You left me shattered
But I'm so over it
I put back the pieces to see if they still fit
You left me shattered
But I'm stronger from this I'm doing just fine
And now you're only wasting
Now you're only wasting your time

You left me shattered
You left me shattered
