

You Are More

The Letter Black

Some say time heals wounds
Then why am I still bleeding?
The pain is overwhelming
Paralyzing all of me
I can't hold on forever
I'm not strong enough to make it
I'm starting to go blind, this curse is killing me

The light seems so out of reach
You're all I need
You are more than I need
You are the one
But am I willing to see

Time keeps passing by
Still I don't feel a change
What keeps holding me
From the life that I need
I can't seem to break
All these chains gripping me
I have to change my life
If I don't I won't live

I'm not afraid of what I have to
