Too Real

The Levellers

Here she comes, the great leveler King and serfs bow before her If you feel her eyes on you, run

She'll come and put her arms around you You lie and say, she hasn't found you You'll run to her she's there to greet you

Are you lost to us forever
Tied in lust strapped in leather
Is the cost way beyond you
Do you love her more than you love yourself

Is it just too real Cold clear for you to feel Is it just too real Cold clear for you to feel

Am I far in the distance Am I the cure or a symptom Should I go when you tell me to

Can you tell I've never loved her Because my life is for another Who's up and down, but will take me there

I don't claim to understand her But hand in hand I am with her Bright and clear and with a future You can come and join us if you dare

I sing, but you can't speak
I laugh, but you can't smile
L love, but you lie low
Got to let her go [unverified]

I look, you don't see
I talk, you don't hear
I walk then you will crawl low
You've got to let her go
