

Who's The Daddy

The Levellers

Have you ever wondered, dare you ever ask?
Just who it is that's pulling your strings so fast
Do you ever think have you ever been so sure?
Just who that is keeps asking you for more

Sure enough you know it and you know it in your heart
When you were born they had you from the start
And when you find you've got nothing left to say
They'll cut your strings and they're starting from today

Guess who's the daddy who's really in control
Guess who's got your number and who owns your soul

When you remember all the places you have been Every situation well nothings what it seems
When you start asking and getting no reply
They'll cut your strings for daring to ask why

Guess who's the daddy who's really in control
Guess who's got your number and who owns your soul

TRUTH AND LIES no disguise

Guess who's the daddy who's really in control
Guess who's got your number and who owns your soul
