Things Just Happened

The Lightning Seeds

These days, alone with her gin The state she gets in When did the thinking begin? She rolls her eyes in that dreamy way Says "I'm ok But why should my life feel this way?" Oh that girl She's just a girl In a hard luck world

Where did she come from? What will she be? If her face lights up in the night with a smile Is there someone to see? As she opens her eyes I realize every day is a dream, It's hard to be who you wanted to be Oh that girl She's just a girl In a hard luck world

I know she finds it hard She's never tried so hard before She finds it hard It breaks your heart Oh girl She's just a girl In a hard luck world Oh girl In a hard luck world Things just happened that way
