

Love Is A Dog From Hell

The Limousines

I remember kissing you back then
We cupped our cigarettes against the wind
And when the rain began to fall
We pressed ourselves against the wall
In two square feet of heaven all our own
I said what should we do
You said we could do anything you want to
You said what should we do
I said we could do anything we want to
But we gotta be careful because
Love is a dog from hell

I remember kissing you again
You pressed your pretty lips against my skin
And when the dawn began to break
We stood there naked, face to face
You promised you would never leave me alone

You said what should we do
I said we could do anything we want to
I said what could we do
You said we could do anything we want to
But love is a dog from hell

Sometimes I feel like a runaway
Oh, god, I feel like a runaway
Sometimes I'm scared you could runaway
Oh, darling, please don't run away

Darling, don't run away...

I'll remember kissing you
I'll remember kissing you
I'll remember kissing you forever
