

Live To Love (Demo)

The Living End

When you're facing a mirror
And you can't look yourself in the eye
Like a stone in the river
You sink down to the bottom
Every single time

You're always running for cover
Always leaving behind the disguise
Always needing another
You're trying to keep a hold
While your hands are tied

You won't know when your times up
You should think yourself lucky
If you Live to Love another day

Draw a line in the sand
Roll the dice from your hand
Oh come on now it can't be that bad
If you Live to Love another day

When you search for perfection
But there's no right answers to be found
And when you're done asking questions
Will you get back up or will you sink to the ground?

You won't know when your time's up
You should think yourself lucky
If you Live to Love another day

Draw a line in the sand
Roll the dice from your hand
Oh come on now it can't be that bad
If you Live to Love another day

and...

You won't know when your time's up
You should think yourself lucky
If you Live To Love another day

Draw a line in the sand
Roll the dice from your hand
Oh come on now it can't be that bad
If you Live to Love another day...
