

Where Are We Now?

The Lost Trailers

I saw the angels falling from the sky,
I saw the buildings rising up to meet them,
I tried to find you but I was too late,
for any consolation,

Oh, where are we now? Where are we now?
Good Lord what's happening here?
They say there's nothing to fear,
But the world is falling down.

I saw the people running for the streets,
I saw the fire falling all around them,
I knew we'd never be the same
when I heard them calling out your name,

Oh where are we now? Where are we now?
Good Lord what's happening here?
They say there's nothing to fear,
but the world is falling down.

We've got the past slung over our shoulders,
but the future is clinging to our necks,
But we'll keep walking till we're out of breath,
and let the world figure out the rest.

Oh, where are we now? Where are we now?
Good Lord what's happening here?
They say there's nothing to fear,
but the worlds falling down
