

We caught a spark
And lingered like a feather
If every night's a violent fight
How can we hold this thing together?

We're throwing all the money away
I don't need to pay for our mistake

Sunrise to fireflies
These white lies have only left me wasted
And now I'm running out of time
But I don't want to wait
Just blow me away
Out like a birthday candle
Oh, honey, do what you want
'Cause I won't remember

Caught off guard
It left my heart in ruin
All my thoughts just ran apart
Like a pack of restless children

I've landed in the worst of worlds
With a dry canteen and plastic sword

Goodbye to blue skies
These white lies have set this heart on fire
And now you want to watch it burn
But I don't want to wait
Just blow me away
Out like a birthday candle
Oh, honey, do what you want
