The Madden Brothers

Hearts don't break alone, I know
I seen it on TV
Now that you're gone, I want to know
Where I fit in this story

And this house of cards came tumbling down
Just scattered hearts and broken pieces
No hand to hold, no consolation
And suddenly,

Second chances, new romances
Conversations, good vibrations
Stolen glances, strangers dancing
Feels good knowing, life keeps going
Suddenly

You used to say that you love the way I am
I hate that it changed, and I'm sorry that I ran

And this house of cards came tumbling down
Just scattered hearts and broken pieces
No hand to hold, no consolation
And suddenly,

Second chances, new romances
Conversations, good vibrations
Stolen glances, strangers dancing
Feels good knowing, life keeps going
Suddenly

Look at the colors around you, changing
Just feel the music that's always playing
Right when you think that it's over, baby
Somebody new comes along to save you
Cause loving, leaving, it's only changing
Right when you think that you're going crazy
Well, that's the moment you know it, baby

This house of cards came tumbling down
Just scattered hearts and broken pieces
No hand to hold, no consolation
And suddenly,

Second chances, new romances
Conversations, good vibrations
Stolen glances, strangers dancing
Feels good knowing, life keeps going
Suddenly
