

A Start With No Ending

The Magic Numbers

When does a dream decide to lie?
Oh why...
When does a dream become a lullaby?
Oh why...
Why does a heart begin to cry?
Oh why...
Why do we never look love in the eye?

I'm just a boy pretending
And you're just a girl pretending
And we are just a start with no ending

When does a house begin to fall?
If you had to choose, would you loose it all?
What are we hoping we might find?
Is it your or mine
Why does that every child will take who goes to sleep?
They never weep
Why does it always hurt to say goodbye

I'm just a boy pretending
And you're just a girl pretending
And we are just a start with no ending

When does a dream decide to lie?
Oh why...
Why does a heart begin to cry?
Oh why...

I'm just a boy pretending
And you're just a girl pretending
And we are just a start with no ending
