

Dreams Of A Revelation

The Magic Numbers

Dreams of a revelation by somebody
Lost control of myself, was it someone else who found me
Dare I take my chances
So you wait without answer
See I rather wait the rest of my life just to know
It's not me letting go

Round, round, it sound better, wake up now, it's calling Did you leave me for dead, would you leave there, I'm fallen
If mistakes have answer
Then I've wasted the chances
Well I choose to sing the rest of my life in this song
Where did I go wrong

Dreams of a revelation cried somebody
In the end the sacrifice doesn't mean much else, I'm sorry
So I take my chances
Runway from the answer
If it's meant to take the rest of your life, would you know
What is it we're waiting for
