

Once I Had

The Magic Numbers

Once the letter reads
Curse inside of me
I'm incomplete
Pray my soul to keep

They are spinning in circle of hourly
Leave it alone
Keep searching for traces of someone I was
And don't even know

Once I had a dream
Foolish as can be
I set it free
Blankets eyes to weep

They are spinning in circle in hourlies
Does it take to make you loose control
And the appearance it had, I knew something was wrong
Tell me does it always break, friend you can tell
Keep searching for traces of someone I was
When every word is off from every night

I want you to know what this is like
