

Sound Of Something

The Magic Numbers

There's sound that I hear when I'm laying awake and I wonder why
I just think to myself, oh if only I knew what it felt inside
When I look to my left, for it never be clear about what is right
But the dreams that we have, well dreams always seems to just pass us by

And it fills me up
There's a sound
There's a sound
There's a sound
I don't know what I keep thinking of
There's a sound
There's a sound
There's a sound
I wanna start again

Working hard on a rhyme, ringing soul to define what becomes of you
Don't surrender the time, only you fears will subside, oh you know the do Once the memories fade from mistakes that we made, I was just a child
This we dream to forget all the years that we had just passes us by

Would you fill me up?
There's a sound
There's a sound
There's a sound
I don't know what I keep thinking of
There's a sound
There's a sound
There's a sound
I wanna start again

And this can be the biggining
I don't know what I keep thinking of Am I running away just to feel it
I don't know what I keep thinking of Got my arms outstrached but I just won't believe it

There's sound that I hear when I'm laying awake and I close my eyes
I see love is away so you dressed in my sleep, I watched you cry Still I look to the left, never been sure about what is right
As I hear my heart pounding, lost in the sound and it makes me smile

And it fills me up
There's a sound
There's a sound
There's a sound

I don't know what I keep thinking of
There's a sound
There's a sound
There's a sound
I wanna start again
