From a Sinking Boat

The Magnetic Fields

In the middle of the night With a sickening sound This little boat Ran aground.

The mast is twisted,
The hull is breached,
One more tide
And it'll be beached.

If I could walk
I'd walk away
But I haven't slept
since yesterday

The ink is sinking, The page is blue, And I can't read a single word.

But know that I love you, Know that I wrote My last words to you From a sinking boat
