If You Don't Cry

The Magnetic Fields

Softly the crystals falling on 17th Street do their dance and d ie and are gone Millions of crystal balls roll around your feet and nothin g gets done An hour goes by She doesn't If you don't cry it isn't love If y ou don't cry then you just don't feel it deep enough Dying all day in th ousands of little ways Dancing alone and drinking a lot Closing the clubs and haunting the cabarets looking for what Another five years off your life. .. A year goes by She doesn't...