

The Trouble I've Been Looking For

The Magnetic Fields

Crows in the trees spanish hotels by the sea
we wave goodbye airplanes draw swords in the sky

I'm so rich and you're so bored
Are you the trouble I've been looking for
You go out and you slam the door
Are you the trouble I've been looking for.

My eyes still burn whether you leave or return
The flowers bloom when you walk into the room

I'm so rich and you're so bored
Are you the trouble I've been looking for
You go out and you slam the door
Are you the trouble I've been looking for.

You stole it all and wrote my name on a wall
I've moved again I've changed my name again

I'm so rich and you're so bored
Are you the trouble I've been looking for
You go out and you slam the door
Are you the trouble I've been looking for.
