

Visions

The Maine

Last night I saw you in a dream
I'm still not sure just what it means
Tonights before much of the same
I found you dancing on the back of my brain

Hallucinating things I find in my head
Illuminating the right side of my bed

And we kissed and we fought
I laughed and you screamed
Oh I've learned to love these
Goddamn visions
But I just can't wait to fall back to sleep

Oh I woke up and I felt let down
You tied up your sliver hair and left this town
Your three hundred something miles away
I close my eyes and all I see is your face

Hallucinating things I find in my head
Illuminating the right side of my bed

And we kissed and we fought
I laughed and you screamed
Oh I've learned to love these
Goddamn visions
But I just can't wait to fall back to sleep

Hallucinating

And we kissed and we fought
I laughed and you screamed
Oh I've learned to love these
Goddamn visions
But I just can't wait, I just cant wait
No I just cant wait, to fall back to sleep
